IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, GEORGE W. BROWN, who passed away one year ago, October 14, 1974.

To you grave I always wander,
Flowers I place with care.
No one knows the heartbreak
When I turn and leave you there.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us forget,
But time, so far, has only proved
How much I miss you yet.
Your loving wife, BESSIE.

LENA FLEISHMAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Fleishman says this one is the 'biggest' one he has ever grown in their garden.

Music Opens The Season

The Lynchburg FAC Symphony Orchestra will open the 1975-76 season with an emphasis on our nation's music and four composers - American, English and German - who have contributed to its musical growth and to the world culture of music at large.

The program includes: "An American in Paris" by George Gershwin; "Appalachia" by the Englishman, Frederick Delius; Lieder Eines Fahrenden Gesellen" by Gustav Mahler, and "Symphony Number Three" by the American composer Roy Harris. During Delius's "Appalachia" the Symphony Orchestra is joined by the FAC Chorus.

"An American in Paris" and "Rhapsody in Blue" established Gershwin as one of the first American composers whose works were played regularly by symphony orchestras. Although he died at 38, Gershwin's popularity continues to flourish. The special quality of his music with its fresh, personal melodic sense and tricky rhythms will always be part of American life and music.

Delius's "Appalachia" is an excellent example of his total spectrum of composition. Although English by birth, Delius spent some time in this country raising oranges in Florida. He left to pursue a musical career at the Leipzig Conservatory in Germany but the American experience was profound enough to influence all of his compositions.

"Appalachia" is based on two Spirituals which can be heard throughout the work and unfold to their fullest expression when the 83-voice FAC Chorus joins with the 80-piece Symphony in this work.

"Lieder Eines Fahrenden Gesellen" by Mahler is a song cycle for solo mezzo soprano voice and orchestra. The English translation is "Songs of the Wayfarer." Gustav Mahler spent the last two years of his life as principal conductor of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra. While in this country he influenced many American musicians and one of his former associates is the musical director and conductor of the Shenandoah Music Festival in Orkney Springs, Va., Dr. Richard Lert. Mrs. Rebecca Riviere, will be solo mezzo soprano.

Conductor David Gilbert has been known to name Mahler as one of his favorite composers, according to a close associate of the New York conductor. Gilbert has conducted Mahler's "Kindertotenlieder" as part of the American Ballet Theatre dance repertoire in performances throughout this country and in Europe.

Of his 11 symphonies Symphony No. 3 reflects Roy Harris's style most clearly and is his most played work. This American composer's melodies are often long and spacious, at times suggesting Gregorian chant. Harris' music has been described as being similar to that of Aaaron Copeland.

This concert will utilize the greatest variety of musical instruments seen on the Lynchburg concert stage. Included are: the entire basic orchestra of strings; woodwinds, brass and percussion; English horn, bass clarinet; harp; celese; three saxaphones, and an antique car horn.

Tickets will be available at the box office for seven days prior to the concert. Contact the box office at the FAC and at E. C. Glass the night of the Concert.
